

OUR STORY

The story of Meriwether began in London, inspired by the everyday life in a frequently wet and blustery big city.

We created our raincoats to be the one item to carry you through the daily realities of a busy week. Whether you need something casual, empowering, or elegant, our coats are made to suit any occasion and any weather.

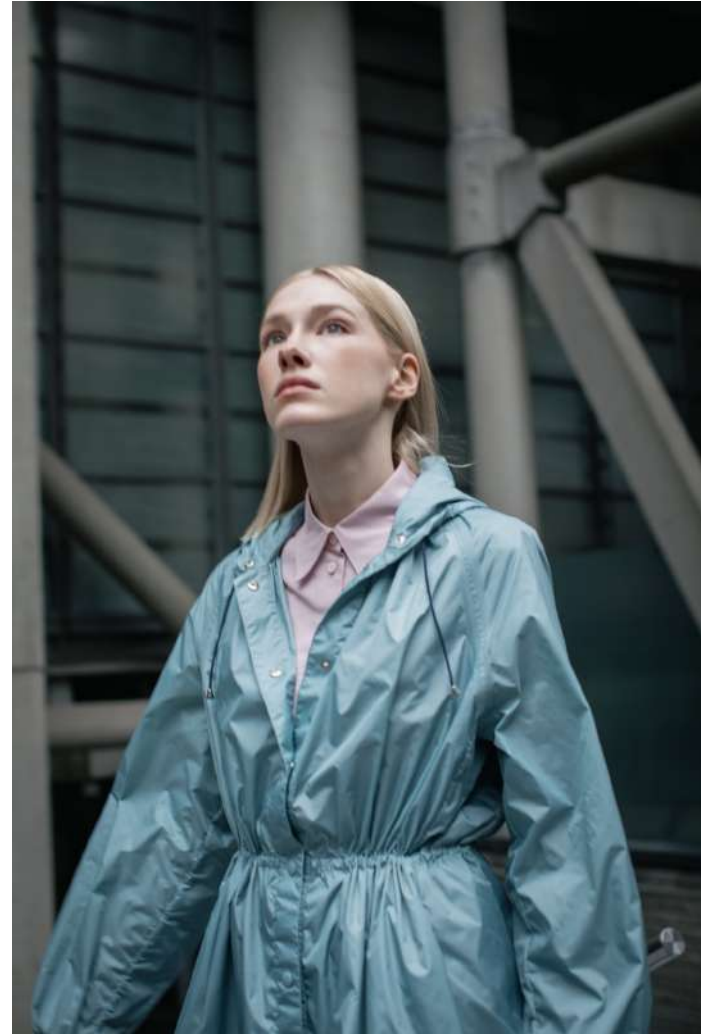

Our raincoats and accessories are designed and crafted with the highest attention to detail. We selected the best possible impermeable, quick-drying, high-performance fabrics and made them feel as natural as possible. We studied hoodie shapes, tested them in wind and rain, repositioned buttons, moved pockets, and then did it all over again, to make sure you are protected outdoors and feel confident indoors.
