Love and work

Spring Summer 2023

“One can live magnificently in this world if one knows how to work and how to love” - Tolstoy

When Tolstoy wrote these words over 100 years ago little thought was given to how women did or could experience love and work - what Freud described as the two cornerstones of our humanness. Today, on the 28th floor of a new addition to the London skyline, against the backdrop of sweeping views across the city we celebrate women and what it means to love and work.

Collection Notes

Feminine tailoring features short skirts, slits and draped trousers

Delicately crocheted bras, dresses and accessories add hand-craft embellishments across the collection

Sheer button up tops, skirts and dresses in lemon and sage can be worn with or without linings

Signature sculptural shapes are soft and relaxed with falling shoulders and revealing straps

Silk halterneck dresses and tops are finished with statement, custom gold plated hardware

White and patchworked two-tone organic denim styles are relaxed and finished with hand-frayed detailing

Swimwear made with recycled nylon in double halter straps and one-shouldered styles are finished with a signature resin donut ring

Flat and low wooden heeled sandals are strappy and open in neutral colours

SS23 introduces the knot bag family in both object box and cross body bucket sizes, it also launches a new hand held chain bag and an updated Banana bag with new strap detailing

Statement jewellery pieces feature organically shaped glass pearls made in Italy
